CUT FACE WITH WHIP.

Farmer Painfully Injured Master John Campbell.

Master John Campbell, son of Mrs. Birdie Campbell, was painfully but not seriously hurt by T. B. Newton, a farmer residing on the Benton road, the farmer using a buggy whip on the little fellow.

Shortly before noon today the boy was coming down South Sixth street when he spied Newton riding in a buggy. He says he asked him for a ride and receiving no refusal climbed in behind. The farmer without a word is alleged to have taken his whip and lashed the boy across the face. Blood was drawn from the little fellow's lips and face and Newton was summoned by officers to the city hall. He stated that the boy climbed on his buggy and was likely to have "got hurt."

The officers instructed him to appear in police court tomorrow and explain his attack on the youth.

IN THE COURTS

Suit Filed For Damages.

William McCormick has filed suit in circuit court against Paducah Dry Docks company for $5,000 damages for injuries received six weeks ago while working around that plant at foot of Jefferson street. He alleges that he was using a block, tackle and long rope, stretched out to bank. The rope snapped and let fly back the block and tackle, which struck McCormick in the head and badly injured him.

County Court.

Magisterial Court.

Justice Charles Emery yesterday afternoon issued two warrants, one against Maggie Speed and another against Lula Speak, both colored, and it was all brought about because each used too much speed in speaking.

Recently a colored woman on Jackson street died and left a small child had been left to her and the Speak woman set up the same claim. The discussion waxed hot until the women armed themselves with bricks and started in for a real battle. They were prevented by bystanders and the Speed woman took out a warrant charging her opponent with a breach of the peace. Subsequently the Speak woman had a warrant issued against the Speed woman on the same charge, and the matter will be aired in Justice Emery's court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.
